DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- A. Species Group A; Reverberation system using notch filter and an energy transmission network
 - I. Fig. 1 is drawn to the system with one version of a notch pass filter
 - II. Fig. 2 is drawn to an alternate implementation of the notch pass filter w/ the module for implementing poles is distinct from the module to implement the filter zeros.
 - III. Fig. 3 is drawn to an alternate implementation of the notch pass filter w/ an inner loop producing the poles and an outer feed forward path producing the zeros.
 - IV. Fig. 4 is an alternate implementation of the notch pass filter w/ inner feed forward path for producing the zeros and an outer feedback loop producing the poles.
 - V. Fig. 10 is an alternate implementation of the notch pass filter modified to allow for a frequency dependent notch depth.
- B. Species Group B; Reverberation system using four energy dispersive transmission networks and a mixer

- I. Fig. 7 is drawn to the system with the energy dispersive transmission networks connected with feedback.
 - II. Fig. 8 is drawn to an alternate implementation of the energy dispersive transmission networks connected in parallel.
 - III. Fig. 9 is drawn to an alternate implementation of the energy dispersive transmission networks connected in a single large loop.
- C. Species Group C; Reverberation system using a dispersive energy transmission network and a randomizing modulation mixer
- I. Figs. 19 – 21 and 14 are drawn to the system with a 2 x 2 mixer
 - II. Figs. 19 – 21 and 15 are drawn to the system with a 4 x 4 mixer
 - III. Figs. 19 – 21 and 17 are drawn to the system with a 4 x 4 mixer with 16 modulators
 - IV. Figs. 19 – 21 and 22 are drawn to the system with a 4 x 4 mixer connected to an audio output which functions as an energy transmission network.

Applicant must select a single species from one of the Groups A, B or C above.

One single species will be examined.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Andrew C Flanders whose telephone number is (571) 272-7516. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8:30 - 5:00.
